

GENDER RESPONSIVE BUDGETING (GRB)

What it means?

Definition of GRB

- ▶ An analysis of the government budget in terms of its reach and impact on women and men, girls and boys.
 - ▶ In effect, a form of policy analysis from a gender perspective.
 - ▶ In GRB, the focus is not on the numbers contained in the budget. Rather, the focus is much on the policy and programmes underlying the numbers.
 - ▶ It also focus on what happens when the policies and programmes are implemented.
 - ▶ A government policy or programme will not be effective unless adequate resources are allocated to implement it.

Definition of GRB

- ▶ In GRB, the analysis is not the end. The analysis should result in changes in the programmes and policies and the budgets which are allocated for them so that they can better meet the different needs of women and men, and girls and boys.
 - ▶ GRBs are political interventions which aim to change the nature of budgets and the policies and programmes that underlie them so as to change the situation of (poor) women and men, and girls and boys.
