The Government of Australia further declares, under paragraph 1(a) of article 298 of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea done at Montego Bay on the tenth day of December one thousand nine hundred and eighty-two, that it does not accept any of the procedures provided for in section 2 of Part XV (including the procedures referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this declaration) with respect to disputes concerning the interpretation or application of articles 15, 74 and 83 relating to sea boundary delimitations as well as those involving historic bays or titles.

Summary of the purpose of the proposed treaty action and why it is in the national interest

8. The purpose of the treaty action is to place some limitations on Australia's acceptance of the compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice (ICJ). The changes are in line with the Government's view that that countries like Australia that have a broad and long term acceptance of the jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice are not exposed to the possibility of litigation by countries that only accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the Court for a short time or for a specific purpose. It is also the Government's view that maritime boundary disputes are best resolved through negotiation and not litigation.
